UNIVERSITAS UDAYANA

The 2nd International Conference on Cultural Communication & Space (ICCCS)

CLIMATE CHANGE AND THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT

<https://icccs.unud.ac.id>

Topics

This 2020's conference is organized following the 1st ICCCS held in 2018. While many academic events have discussed these matters across the whole spectrum of problems, we focus here on the built environment in relation to climate change phenomena and its required responses to culture and space. Given the above considerations, this second ICCCS focuses on the following topics of conversation that address the significant policies and practices of climate change:

1. Implications for built form and environment.
2. Innovative design and construction for eco-urbanism.
3. Restructuring development & planning.
4. Political, socio-cultural and behavioral reconstitution.
